Notes:

- The Administration has yet to release specific numbers for the projects with an "X". Those numbers should be available by 2/8/06 and will be included in a revised version of this table that will be published on that day.
- There is no effective way at this time to compare the numbers proposed by the Administration for FY '07 with previous years. A comparison should be possible once the X's are replaced by numbers. However, the Administration has proposed the shift of dollars that were formerly under the Construction category to the Operations and Maintenance category. This will make a direct comparison with previous Administration proposed budgets problematic.
